Child marriage is a human rights violation that impedes the development of girls in Sierra Leone and Africa as a whole. Studies have indicated a high prevalence of early/child and forced marriage in Africa as compared to other continents.

In Sierra Leone, 44% of girls are married before they are 18 years old, whilst 18% of them are married before they are 15.

The African Union (AU) has launched a campaign to End Child Marriage in Africa and expects every African Country to launch this campaign and work towards ending child marriage.
